

We are looking for freelance film editors to assist us with editing our footage from gigs!

Lost Data Productions has been documenting the punk scene in London and beyond since 2012, filming gigs on a regular basis.

Such a regular basis, in fact, that we have plenty of raw footage of some amazing gigs that are yet to be edited into fully-produced video clips.

We're looking to bring on board freelance video editors to join the team and help us work through our extensive collection of footage as well as producing clips from gigs and festivals that Lost Data Productions will be attending in the future.

And you know there's going to be plenty of them!

If you're a freelance editor who would like to get involved, please get in touch.

More information can be found out at our website: lostdataproductions.tv

D.I.T. - Do it together! LDP.tv

info@lostdataproductions.tv